NDRHA

North Dakota Rural Health Association

Providing a unified voice to promote and enhance the quality of rural health
in North Dakota

Our vision

Our vision is to be an effective advocate for improved health status of rural North Dakotans.

Moving rural North Dakota forward

We encourage research and analysis that identifies rural healthcare needs. We serve as a link between stakeholders working to improve and maintain North Dakota’s rural health infrastructure.

Become a member

Anyone interested in supporting our mission and vision is encouraged to become a member. If rural health is something you are passionate about, join today!

“Northwood Deaconess benefits by the things I learn and experience as an NDRHA member. Having a diverse membership exposes me to other areas of health-related services such as public health, AHEC, education, and others. Developing relationships with those members allows us to capitalize on the benefits and resources these partners have. NDRHA also supports travel to conferences that NDHC would otherwise not be able to afford.”

-Pete Antonson, CFO Northwood Deaconess Health Center

“NDRHA is the only association that sits at the intersection of the public health and health care professionals. My work in public health benefited from the things I learned from hospital and clinic administrators, and I think they learned a couple of things from me, too! That would not happen without the opportunity NDRHA gave me to rub shoulders with people that ultimately became my friends.”

-Keith Johnson, retired CEO Custer Health, past president of NDRHA
